Crimes surge 10% in South and Vale

By Alex Ballinger

AN Abingdon leader has told residents not to worry after new crime statistics revealed homicides tripled and reports of racism almost doubled in Vale of White Horse and South Oxfordshire within the last year.

Of eight murders and manslaughters across Oxfordshire from April 31, last year to March 1 this year, six were in South and Vale; and two of those were in Abingdon.

The Thames Valley Police crime figures published last Thursday also show in total there was a 10.9 per cent increase in crime on last year; with 9,601 recorded compared to 8,644 the year before.

When asked if there is any cause for concern, Abingdon town council leader Sandy Lovatt said: "Not compared to the rest of the country."

He added: "The figures have gone up but as I understand it is primarily down to more reporting by police. It is difficult to put any particular importance on it because the police have taken a new policy on reporting crime. We need to go another year to see if there is a change."

There were 61 non-criminal incidents of racism reported to police, an increase of 96.8 per cent on the previous year which saw 31 incidents reported, up from 29 the year before.

While violent crimes against other people rose 40 per cent, from 1,384 to 1,939.

Sexual offences increased 41 per cent from 266 to 376. Under the umbrella of sexual offences, rapes rose from 74 to 131.

Elderly victims' homes targeted in connected Oxfordshire burglaries

By Alex Ballinger

THREE elderly peoples' homes have been targeted in burglaries in Wallingford, Watlington and Middle Assendon that police believe are connected.

Cash and bank cards were stolen in the three incidents within one hour of each other on Sunday, May 1.

The victims were all at home during the burglaries and one women challenged intruders, who ignored her and continued searching her home.

Detective Sergeant Francesca Jarvis, based in Abingdon, said: "Burglaries are often upsetting for the victims and unsettling for neighbours and the local community.

"We're supporting these victims and would like to reassure the public, particularly the elderly living on their own and their families and friends, that we are here to help.

"We'd like to hear from anyone who might have seen or heard anything suspicious at the locations where the offences took place at around the time of the incidents."

The first burglary happened in Wantage Road, Wallingford at around 10.15pm last Sunday, when a woman in her seventies heard noises coming from the front of her house.

She then saw a man walking out of the front door.

He was white, about 5ft 9ins, and wore dark clothing, possibly with a light coloured hood.

Nothing appears to have been taken in the incident.

A second incident took place at around 10.50pm at a house in The Green, Middle Assendon near Henley.

A woman in her seventies found two men in her kitchen and challenged them, but they continued to search the property and left through a bedroom window.

Bank cards, a purse and cash were stolen by the men who are described as white, around 18 or 19 years old, 5ft 7ins and were both wearing masks.

At around 11.15pm a man in his eighties found three men in his home in Couching Street, Watlington. All had covered faces and the rear patio door had been forced and an attempt had been made to gain entry through the front door.

Cash was stolen during this incident.

Anyone with information is asked to call Thames Valley Police on 101.

To the polls for council and PCC elections

PARTS of Oxfordshire will be taking to the polls today, May 5, to elect their councillors while the whole of the Thames Valley will also choose its PCC candidate for the next four years.

Half of Oxford City Council seats are available in the election, with one councillor being elected to each of the 24 wards.

Newly elected councillors will serve until May 2020.

One third of the council seats on West Oxfordshire District Council are also up for grabs, including the Chipping Norton ward formerly held by council leader Barry Norton.

Due to changes in the ward boundaries, all councillors on Cherwell District Council will have to contest their seats in today's elections.

The number of councillors will fall from 50 to 48 under the new ward system.

Elections are also being held today for the Thames Valley Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC), who oversees the Thames Valley Police budget.

The current PCC Anthony Stansfeld (Con) is standing for re-election.

He faces competition from West Oxfordshire district councillor Laetisia Carter (Lab), Oxfordshire county councillor John Howson (Lib Dem) and UKIP's Lea Trainer.

Mr Stansfeld, who also serves on West Berkshire Council, was elected to the role when it was created in 2012.

Appeal for enforcement over football pitch dog fouling

Calls for new penalties

By Alex Ballinger

PARENTS of Abingdon's aspiring young footballers have issued an ultimatum to dog-walkers who let their pets foul their team's football pitch without cleaning up.

Players at St Edmunds Football Club in Boxhill Park say they have to clean up dog mess from their pitch before every game and training session.

One dad of a St Edmunds player has raised safety fears and reached out to Vale of White Horse District Council, calling on them to do more make dog owners clean up the mess.

Bill Payne, who's 11-year-old son Billy plays for the team, said: "It's disgusting.

"We're finding six or seven dollops of dog mess each time.

"The parents walk up and down the pitch, picking up all the faeces."

Mr Payne approached Vale of White Horse District Council's environmental protection officer, Gary Marcham, about the problem, and said Mr Marcham agreed to look at increasing patrols and putting up new signs.

There are currently dog waste bins and warning signs to dog walkers scattered around the park off Boxhill Road, but Mr Payne said they are largely ignored.

Another parent, whose son plays for the club and did not want to be named, added: "It's not just the football pitches.

"It's also about the amount of kids that play here after school as well.

"It's the ones who let the dog off the lead then call them back, so you can see they haven't cleared it up."

Mr Payne, of Parsons Mead, also raised concerns about the length of the grass and said it is not maintained enough for the team to play properly.

Boys and girls from in and around Abingdon play in the 11 teams run at St Edmunds and ages range from under eight years old to 17.

He added that pitches would be cleared of dog's mess ahead of training on every Friday evening but that it would need to be scoured again by match day on Sunday.

He added: "There are so many teams that play on that one pitch, I think it needs to be sorted for safety."

The park is maintained by Abingdon Town Council but no one was available to comment.

Increase put down to police methods

• From front page

Superintendent Rory Freeman, LPA (Local Policing Area) Commander for South and Vale said: "We know that racist incidents and hate crime are underreported.

"We're encouraging more victims to come forward who may previously not have been willing to, and our officers will record these crimes more accurately."

He added: "We know that domestic abuse and rape are vastly underreported. It's encouraging that South and Vale residents increasingly have the confidence in us to report domestic abuse and rape."

Police put the increases down to a different way of recording crime having been introduced.

Previously officers had to record crimes within 72 hours, but the new system means incidents have to be logged within 24.

In relation to homicides in Abingdon, Justin Skrebowski, 61, was stabbed to death on December 7 in Bury Street's. Trevor Joyce, 36, of Franklyn Close, Abingdon, is charged with his murder and a trial is earmarked to start at Oxford Crown Court on June 6.

On November 3 Abingdon 26-year-old Kerry Reeves, of Banbury Court in The Vineyard, was shot in the face at close range.

Billy Johnson, 20, of Ripon Court in Corby, Northamptonshire and Charles Noble, 21, from Kempton Avenue in Northolt, Ealing, London, have pleaded not guilty to her murder and their trial is due to start at Oxford Crown Court on Monday.

Police would not disclose the sixth homicide due to criminal proceedings remaining active.

Maggie Smith opens Shakespeare's Dead

CELEBRATED British veteran actress Dame Maggie Smith unveiled the Bodleian Library's William Shakespeare-themed summer exhibition last Thursday.

The Downton Abbey actress (above) visited the Weston Library in Broad Street to open Shakespeare's Dead, about the Bard's penchant for talking about death and dying on the 400th anniversary of his death last month.

Dame Smith moved to Oxford with her family aged four and went to Oxford High School until the age of 16.

The 81-year-old has performed in various Shakespeare plays, beginning her career at the Oxford Playhouse in Beaumont Street as Viola in a performance of Twelfth Night in 1952.

Oxford University Chancellor Lord Chris Patten presented Dame Smith with the Bodley Medal, the library's highest honour.

She called it a 'great privilege' to open the unique marking the anniversary of

The free exhibition runs until September 18.

Dad describes police knock after death of 'wonderful' daughter

THE dad of an Oxford teenager killed after walking into a road during an argument with her boyfriend has paid tribute to his 'lovely daughter'.

By Loughlan Campbell

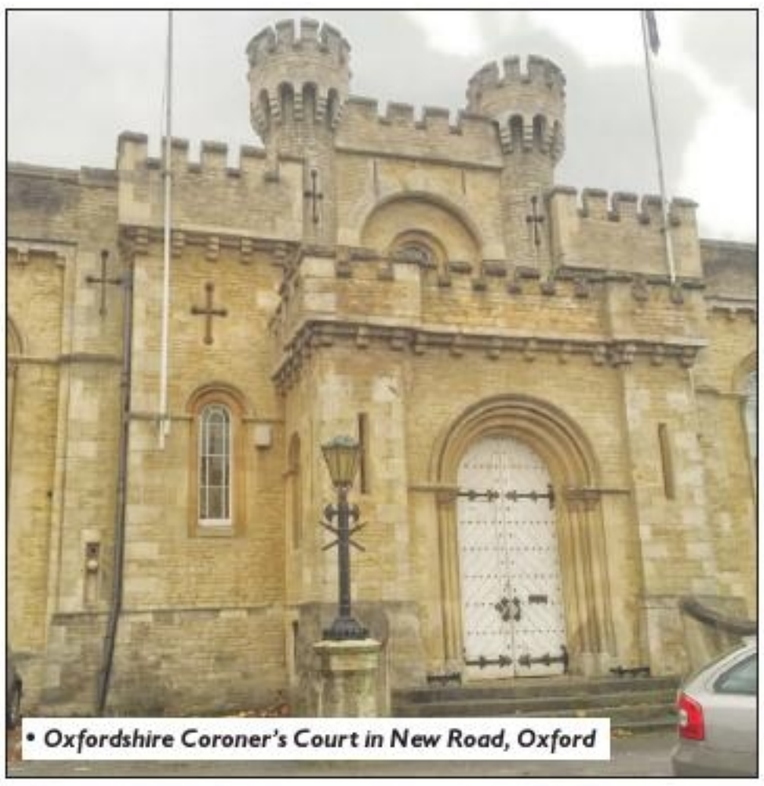
Kidlington student Katy Pancott, 19, died after being hit by a car on the A40 near Cassington in October last year.



• Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road, Oxford

An inquest at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court last Thursday heard Miss Pancott had been quarrelling in the car with on-off boyfriend Andi Rami before he pulled over by the junction to Agrivert organic waste company at about 12.30am.

Mr Rami said he picked her up from drinking with friends in Oxford and that they were driving to Witney so Miss Pancott could meet a friend.

He told the court: "We were going through a rough patch and started arguing. She was saying 'go ahead and leave me like you always do'."

He added: "She kept opening the car door so I pulled over into the layby and she then got out."

Oxfordshire coroner Darren Salter ruled Miss Pancott died from a road traffic collision and gave a cause of death as multiple injuries.

Pathologist Dr Nicholas Hunt told the court Miss Pancott was twice over the drink drive limit.

But he said that was 'likely' to have played no role in her death.

Miss Pancott, sister to Lucas, Kyle and Sophia, was studying travel and tourism at City of Oxford College.

She was struck by a silver Ford Focus driven by Phillip Cartwright who was travelling from Oxford to Witney.

In a statement read at the inquest Mr Cartwright said: "A girl appeared right in front of me in the middle of the road and I braked in that split second."

Miss Pancott's dad David Griffin said after the inquest: "When I got the knock from police on the door, I said to them 'Oh, what's she done now?'

"The actual news was so hard to take."

He added: "It's been a very tough period for us to go through and I don't think it's going to get much easier for us.

"She was a lovely daughter and was just a wonderful girl. She will be missed not just by her family but by all the friends she had. She had so many friends for us to count."

Choc research

OXFORD: Teams at Oxford Brookes University will be carrying out an unusual research project this month to find the health benefits of dark chocolate for sufferers of multiple sclerosis (MS).

The trial will see 40 patients given hot chocolate for six weeks, before being required to complete questionnaires about their fatigue levels and carry out a six-minute walking test.

Dark cocoa containing 70 to 85 per cent cocoa solids has been shown to help people suffering with Chronic Fatigue Syndrome, and the new project aims to see if it has similar effects on MS patients.

MS is a neurological condition that affects around 100,000 people in the UK.

The body attacks its immune system and can cause fatigue, stiffness, and vision problems.

Patients will be recruited from Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, with the trials to start this month.

Didcot demolition contractor fired

By Loughlan Campbell

THE company responsible for the demolition of Didcot A Power Station has been dropped following the disaster at the station in February, with the bodies of three men yet to be recovered.

Birmingham-based Coleman and Company said in a statement on Friday that they will step down from their duties in the next few weeks.

Ken Cresswell, 57, and John Shaw, 61, both of Rotherham, and Christopher Huxtable, 34, from Swansea, are trapped beneath the rubble pile after part of the boiler house collapsed on February 23

Mick Collings, 53, from North Yorkshire, was killed in the collapse, with his funeral taking place back in March.

• Emergency services survey the site at Didcot A Power Station

Managing director Mark Coleman expressed his disappointment in a statement, saying: "We have now reached a stage where we will be handing over the remaining recovery operation to another contractor within the next few weeks.

"This is of course hugely disappointing as we all wanted to recover our friends and colleagues and return them to their families.

"It has been explained to us that this decision has been made for reasons of safeguarding employee welfare and the preservation of critical evidence."

Thames Valley Police and the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) are undertaking a joint investigation into the cause of the incident under the 'Work Related Deaths Protocol.'

Last month RWE said that the 'quickest and safest way' to bring down the rest of the boiler house would be via explosive demolition.

The site owners said that they would 'ensure' the remaining structure would fall away from the current debris pile.

Following an agreement with the police and HSE, site owners RWE started the clearing process on the debris pile on March 19.

Coleman and Company were more than halfway through a three-year project to demolish the coal-fired plant when the collapse happened.

The statement from Mr Coleman continued: "We will remain on-site as principal contractor for the wider site, and over the coming weeks we will plan an active role in supporting the recovery by working collaboratively with a team of industry experts, assisting in any way we can.

"Our overwhelming priority remains the welfare of the families. We are committed to doing whatever we can to support them during this extremely difficult time."

Almost 33,000 people have signed a petition by Mr Huxtable's partner, Jade Ali, 28, calling for the missing trio to be rescued.

RWE ran the power station before it shut in March 2013.

Woman in life-threatening condition after Wheatley crash

A 25-YEAR-OLD man is in custody after a woman was left in a life-threatening condition following a crash in Wheatley on Tuesday.

At around 2.45pm on Tuesday, a black Peugeot travelling along Ladder Hill from Garsington to Wheatley collided head on with a blue Vauxhall Zafira.

The driver of the Zafira, a woman in her 40s, was rushed to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford with serious injuries, while the driver of the Peugeot was uninjured.

A man has been arrested on suspicion of drink driving and of causing serious injury by dangerous driving.

Senior investigating officer Sergeant Chris Ruff said: "Officers are investigating the collision.

"I would like to speak to anyone who witnessed the collision or who saw the vehicles travelling prior to the collision.

"Anyone with information which could assist our investigation should contact police."

Ladder Hill was closed while police attended the scene, but was reopened later that day.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101.

Record crowds ring in May Morning

LATE night revellers and early morning risers united to create record breaking crowds of 25,000 celebrating May Morning festivities in Oxford on Sunday.

The city's traditional jamboree for the coming of Spring saw people flock to Magdalen Bridge for the 6am start.

The crowd spanning from Long Wall Street to the Plain Roundabout stood in silence as choristers of Magdalen College choir sung Hymnus Eucharisticus from the college's Great Tower before dispersing into the city centre for more celebrations. Morris dancers and folk singers struck up a carnival atmosphere as restaurants and cafes opened early for business.

Peter McQuitty, Oxford City Council's head of culture, said: "It was a beautiful crisp, clear morning and people from all the communities across the city and of all ages came together to enjoy that quintessentially Oxford magic moment. You just do not get this anywhere else."

In memory of Martha; couple marks birthday

• Sophie Carp, Edward Tolputt and baby Martha

A COUPLE will be marking the memory of their five-day-old daughter who lost her fight for life one year ago.

Sophie Carp, 33, and Edward Tolputt, 39, from Radley near Abingdon, are hiking 22 miles to raise money for the Oxford hospice that helped them say goodbye to Martha on May 22 last year.

Martha died after being deprived of oxygen during a complicated birth at the John Radcliffe Hospital.

She was taken to Helen and Douglas House for Miss Carp and Mr Tolputt to spend some time with her where staff could also support the grieving couple.

On Saturday, May 21, they are joining a Riverside Stomp, trekking from Wallingford to Oxford to raise money for the hospice.

Miss Carp, a fundraiser, said: "We will forever treasure the extra time we were able to spend with Martha thanks to this wonderful place."

She added: "The process of recovery from the death of a child, whether unexpected or not, is an ongoing journey, and it is a comfort to know that the exceptional staff at Helen and Douglas House will be with us along the way."

By Alex Ballinger

Martha suffered a concealed placental abruption, when the placenta breaks away from the wall of the womb. Despite the hard work of doctors and nurses she died shortly after birth.

Mr Tolputt, a physics teacher, said: "It is the perfect opportunity to remember Martha and raise money for Helen and Douglas House, to whom we are deeply grateful."

The couple will be joined by friends Rachel Graves, Caitlin Tebbit, Sophie Petersen and Mr Tolputt's sister Anna.

This is the hospice's first Riverside Stomp, a hike either 22 miles from Wallingford or eight miles from Abingdon to Oxford along the River Thames

Trish MacIntyre, from Helen and Douglas House, said: "We cannot thank Sophie, Ed and their friends and family enough for doing something so positive in baby Martha's memory.

"Their support will help the charity to continue to fund the specialist care and support they provide for other families across Oxfordshire who have a child with a terminal illness."

Pensioner pushed in charity con

A WOULD-BE burglar left an elderly woman 'very shaken' after pushing her over in a distraction burglary in Oxford.

A man claiming he was from a charity supporting the elderly turned up at the 79-year-old woman's home in Seacourt Road, Botley, and asked her to fill in a survey for the charity.

He arranged the appointment previously over the phone and walked into her home without giving proof of ID at about 12.20pm last Wednesday, April 27.

The man asked to use the bathroom, but the woman found him in a bedroom and challenged him.

He pushed her over before she escaped to ask a neighbour for help.

Detective Constable Matthew Napper said the con was 'well planned' and warned residents not to let anyone in without proper ID.

He added: "The victim is understandably very shaken by this incident and she showed great bravery and resource to free herself and seek help."

The offender is described as white, about 50 to 55-years-old, with short grey hair, blue/green eyes and around 5ft 7ins tall. He was wearing a t-shirt, jumper, grey flannel trousers and black shoes, carrying a clipboard.

Chairman of Trust resigns in scrutiny

By Loughlan Campbell

THE chairman of under-fire Southern Health NHS Foundation Trust has resigned after a new report found there are still 'serious concerns' about the safety of its patients.

Mike Petter stepped down on Thursday after health watchdog the Care Quality Commission (CQC) published a report the same day which found the Trust is still not doing enough to protect vulnerable people in its care.

The report by 22 inspectors followed visits in January.

Southern Health has been under serious scrutiny after a jury inquest at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in October ruled neglect and serious failings in care by the Trust contributed to the death of Headington teenager Connor Sparrowhawk in 2013 at Slade House in Headington, which was run by the Trust.

• Connor Sparrowhawk, 18, died in July 2013

Connor, who had learning difficulties and epilepsy, drowned after suffering a seizure in a bath at the centre.

Mr Petter said: "The Trust has recently undergone a significant amount of scrutiny in some service areas and given the challenges it faces I feel it is appropriate for me to allow new Board leadership to take forward the improvements.

"It is with great sadness that I now leave the organisation. I offer my support and best wishes to all our staff whose dedications and commitment I am continuously impressed by."

It was revealed on Tuesday that Tim Smart, Chief Executive of King's College Hospital NHS Foundation Trust will take over the role after being recommended by watchdog NHS Improvement.

Southern Health has 776 inpatient beds across 276 sites including community hospitals, health centres and inpatient units covering Oxfordshire, Hampshire, Dorset, Wiltshire and Buckinghamshire.

The CQC report said: "Inspectors had serious concerns about the safety of patients with mental health problems and learning disabilities in some of the locations inspected.

"The Trust had not put in place robust governance arrangements to investigate incidents, including deaths. As a result, opportunities had been missed to learn from these incidents and to take action to reduce the likelihood of similar events happening in the future."

The CQC's deputy chief inspector for hospitals and lead for mental health Dr Paul Lelliott said: "It is clear the Trust had still missed opportunities to learn from adverse incidents and to take action to reduce the chance of similar events happening in the future."

A report from audit firm Mazars into the trust in December revealed Southern Health 'failed to properly investigate the deaths of 1,454 patients between April 2011 and March 2015.

Hair of the dog for new boss at The Plough pub

SOME can skateboard, others can fetch, but few dogs can boast of helping to save their village pub.

Millie, 13, shook on the deal with the chef of an Oxfordshire pub to buy 150 shares and keep it thriving.

The Plough in Great Haseley, near Thame, shut in 2012 before residents rallied to reopen it that year.

And Millie the Labrador put in the cash, via owners Peter and Sian Solomons, to keep the pub's future bright.

Mr and Mrs Solomons, moved to Great Haseley about a month ago and put shares in Millie's name as she is such a fond patron of the pub.

Mr Solomons, 57, said: "She loves it here so much."

He added: "The scheme was set up to guarantee the pub's future. The Plough is a real focal point of the village."

About 120 people have signed up to the shareholder project since it launched four years ago.

Millie's second in command to take care of the pub should she pass away is her companion Winnie, an eight-year-old Jack Russell.

Homicides almost triple as felonies rise seven per cent

Oxfordshire crime statistics

By Alex Ballinger

CRIME across Oxfordshire has jumped seven per cent in one year, Thames Valley Police figures have revealed.

Yearly statistics released last Thursday show an upsurge in murder and manslaughter, rape, and violent crime.

Overall recorded crimes increased from 32,774 in 2014/15 to 35,380 in 2015/16.

Both violent crime and rape rose by 47 per cent, while sex offences jumped 35 per cent.

In comparison drug offences have fallen since 2014/15.

Police have put the increases down to more accurate reporting of crimes and an increase in public confidence in the police force.

Local police area (LPA) commander for Oxford, Superintendent Christian Bunt, said: "I expected an increase crime for this year due to the changes in national crime recording standards.

• LPA commander for Oxford, Superintendent Christian Bunt

"Due to these changes it is very difficult to compare this year's crime figures with previous years.

"The positive thing about the changes is that it ensures we have a more accurate picture of crime so that we can focus our preventative enforcement activity."

Homicides in Oxfordshire almost tripled in one year, from three deaths in 2014/15 to eight within the last year.

The statistics released last week run from April 1, 2015, to March 31, 2016.

Cases of drug trafficking have risen slightly from 219 incidents to 230 this year, while possession of drugs has fallen by 23 per cent from 1,593 to 1,221, meaning drug related offences have decreased by 19 per cent overall.

Violent crime has shown a significant jump from 5,004 incidents in Oxfordshire recorded in 2014/15, up to 7,161 this year, an increase of 43 per cent.

Sexual offences have also shown a major increase of 35 per cent, from 986 cases to 1,341.

Incidents of rape rose from 309 to 456 (47 per cent) and other sexual offences from 677 to 885 (30 per cent).

LPA commander for South and Vale, Supt Rory Freeman, said: "Despite 2015/16's slight rise, there were still 5,070 fewer crimes reported in the area than 10 years ago, which is positive.

"I can understand that the rise last year may be concerning for the community but I'd like to take the opportunity to explain that the increase in recorded crime is largely attributable to more accurate recording of crime.

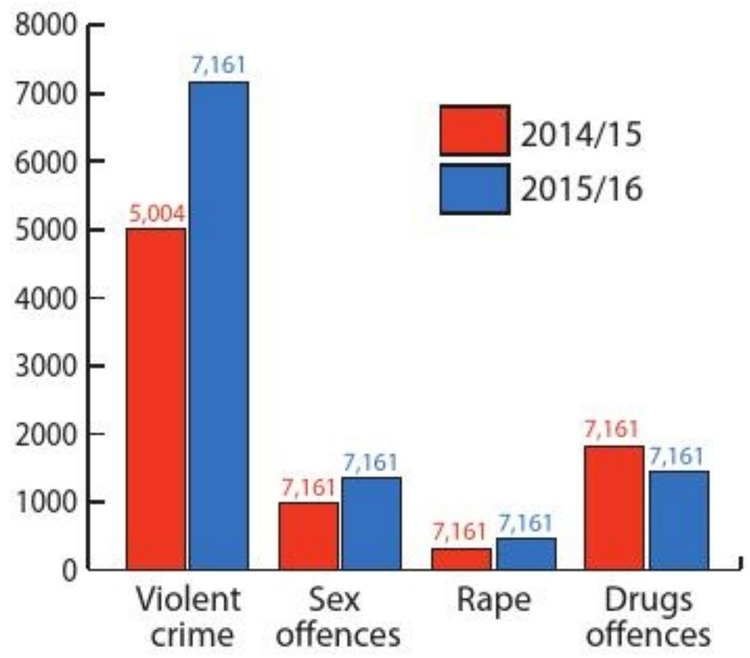
"My focus now is to see crime fall across the LPA by continuing to work with the public and our partners to prevent crime occurring and by ensuring that those that do offend face justice."

The biggest increase for an Oxfordshire LPA came from Cherwell and West Oxfordshire where all crime rose from 10,401 to 11,698, a 12.5 per cent jump.

South and Vale saw a slightly smaller rise of 10.9 per cent, from 8,655 recorded crimes in one year to 9,601.

The Oxford city LPA showed the smallest rise of the county's policing areas, rising only 2.6 per cent from 13,718 to 14,081 recorded crimes.

LPA commander for Cherwell and West Oxfordshire, Supt Kath Lowe, said: "We have worked hard again this year to keep crime across the area as low as possible. Overall crime in the area is up. This is because of an increase in violent crime. This increase has been seen across the country and is due to us identifying and recording these crimes better.



"Our task now is to identify ways we can reduce violent crime, targeting problem areas or people. We have also seen an increase in reports of sexual offences. Again, this mirrors the national picture."

Previously officers had to record crimes within 72 hours, but the new system means incidents have to be logged within 24.

Deputy LPA commander for West Oxfordshire and Cherwell, Chief Inspector Julian Collinson, said: "This means that crimes are now being recorded sooner, and as such information becomes available to police much quicker."

Villagers set to fight new housing plans

By Jayne Smith

VILLAGERS are preparing for a "big fight" after speculative plans for thousands of new homes on their doorstep were revealed.

Developer Bonnar Allan, on behalf of Corpus Christi College, want planning permission to build 5,000 homes in Lower Heyford, near Bicester.

Lower Heyford currently has about 160 homes and a train station on the Banbury to Oxford line.

Villagers are being urged to rally against the plans and stop the application being approved by Cherwell District Council.

The developer said it was in "the early stages" of promoting two large Oxfordshire sites.

The Lower Heyford proposal includes more than 5,000 new homes, two schools, a retail centre and new county park.

The second location has not been revealed, but the proposal includes 3,000 homes, a station and park and ride facility.

In a newsletter, Lower Heyford Parish Council chairman James Macnamara said: "Lower Heyford Parish Council believes that any such development will irrevocably and materially change our lives in Lower Heyford and Caulcott and the surrounding parishes to our enormous detriment."

He said the council was setting up a group dedicated to fighting the plans and seeking support from neighbouring councils and organisations, including North Oxfordshire MP Victoria Prentis.

People who want to support the campaign should contact the parish clerk Cathy Fleet.

Mr Macnamara said the planning application was a scheme the parish council was "determined to see fail".

He said: "This is a big fight and we need a big and able team to fight it."

Posting on social networking site Facebook, Lower Heyford resident Carl Mortimore said: "These speculative developers come in to our lives causing years of worry and concern for local residents while lives are put on hold fighting plans that are just not properly thought about and proposed in the most wholly inappropriate places.

"We all understand the need for homes and jobs but without some proper joined up thinking and planning this wonderful area we live in will be ruined forever....."

The developer's website said: "The city of Oxford has forecast a major housing shortage over the next 15 years and our plans hope to make a major contribution to meeting this need."

Plans have not yet been submitted to planning authority Cherwell District Council.

The survey is part of a project to help improve the vitality of the town centre.

A workshop will take place in unit 22/23 Crown Walk, next to WH Smith, on Wednesday, May 11, from 11am to 1pm.

Self build show

BICESTER: The Build it Live show – a show for people looking to build their own home - is coming to Bicester on June 11 and 12.

A conversation with: Dr Vitali Klitschko

• Dr Klitschko addressing the Oxford Union

By Alex Ballinger

GROWING up behind the iron curtain has given Ukrainian former world heavy weight boxer and now Mayor of Kiev, Vitali Klitschko, a different view of the European Union (EU).

As the EU debate wages on in the UK, Dr Klitschko used his experiences of Soviet life to share a message of unity with Oxford University students last Thursday.

While addressing around 200 people at the Oxford Union in Frewin Court Dr Klitschko, an avid EU supporter, shared his vision for the future of a modern Ukraine with European values.

Dr Klitschko told the Guardian: "We lived in a dictatorial country and we had a dream to build a modern democratic Ukraine. It's not happened.

"In 20 years nothing changed. We wanted to build similar life standards and the same European rules."

After Dr Klitschko built a reputation as a fearsome heavyweight boxer, he turned his hand to politics in 2005, balancing both lives until he retired as a sportsman in 2013.

He also played a major role in the Euromaidan protests that started in 2013, where Ukrainian citizens took to the streets in a civil unrest to demand closer links with the European Union.

The protests in Kiev erupted in November of that year after the Ukrainian Government pulled out of a trade agreement with the EU to pursue closer ties with Russia.

Dr Klitschko said: "Without explanation, they said no. But there was still the dream of the people and the people went to the streets.

"The people said 'we want to be a member of the European Union because we are European.'"

After leaving the world of boxing behind Dr Klitschko was elected Mayor of Kiev in May 2014 and was re-elected in August last year.

Speaking in the Oxford Union's debating chamber he shared with students parts of his youth as the son of a Soviet Air Force major general.

He also spoke of the first time he boxed in the United States after the Soviet Union collapsed in 1989.

Sharing his views on the EU debate in Britain, he said: "Like the finger in a hand, if alone each finger is strong, but together they're much more powerful.

"Many politicians just say what the people want to hear. It's important for them to bring the arguments and to change the opinion of the people."

A44 back to two lanes after traffic complaints

A SECTION of the A44 has been widened to two lanes of traffic following complaints over congestion as road works continue.

The works on the central reservation of the road between Peartree and Wolvercote roundabouts saw the busy route narrowed to one lane.

Following an investigation from Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) the lane was reopened at the end of last week.

Deputy director for commercial at OCC, Mark Kemp, said: "We have always said that we keep the roadworks under review, and if progress allows and it is safe to do so we will make changes.

"This change shows that we constantly look for solutions that will help ease people's journeys."

The road was closed overnight on the A44 southbound between 8pm last Friday and 6am the following day to allow for the road reopening.

OCC said the two lane system is expected to remain until mid July when this phase of work is finished and the road will reopen fully.

The bus lane will stay open and cyclists can use the foot and cycleway on the BP side of the Festival style town street party

CHIPPING NORTON: The town's Rotary Club will host Chipping Norton Town Festival on Sunday, June 12, from 11am.

Town centre roads will be closed to traffic for a street lunch and party. People are invited to bring their own food and eat lunch while listening to all day live music.

There will also be festival tea and cake and a royal birthday cake competition.

Need Not Greed town meeting

THAME: Need Not Greed Oxon, a campaign dedicated to protecting Oxfordshire's rural environment, will be giving a presentation to Thame Town Council on May 11, from 6.30pm, in the Town Hall's Upper Chamber.

The campaign is made up of 26 local community groups from across Oxfordshire and supported by CPRE Oxfordshire.

It has raised concerns about the amount of new housing planned.

The group want to give local people a voice on the future of the county and input on the Strategic Economic Plan produced by Oxfordshire Local Enterprise Partnership.

Bid for best UK pub

• The team at The Thatch pub in Thame are hoping to impress judges for the national Best Pub title after winning the Oxfordshire accolade

By Jayne Smith

A THAME pub has been named best pub in Oxfordshire and will now represent the county in the grand finals.

The Thatch pub, in Lower Street, Thame, won Best Pub in Oxfordshire at the inaugural National Pub & Bar Awards 2016.

It was one of 94 pubs from across England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland to earn the accolade of being best in their area.

Manager Evelin Rae will now go to London's iconic BAFTA theatre on Tuesday, May 24, to attend the National Pub & Bar Awards Grand Final.

Her pub is in with a chance of being crowned one of 12 regional winners or the overall National Pub & Bar of the Year.

Ms Rae said: "It's a great honour to be named best in our county and to have a shot at being the South East winner or even come away with the title of best pub in the land at the National Pub & Bar Awards.

"With so many fine hostelries on our doorstep we know that there is a lot of stiff competition out there, so it is fantastic to be recognised by being one of the finalists.

"In the eight years we've been at the pub, we have invested a lot into it, bringing a new look and feel to the place, seasonal food and a quality drink offer served by people who've been well trained and who, like me, love working here.

"We are proud of what we have achieved and even prouder at being able to represent the county at the awards."

Judges will look at service to product range, as well as the pub's décor and entertainment schedules.

Tristan O'Hana, Editor of Pub & Bar magazine, said: "These pubs represent all that is great about the modern on-trade.

"You can only imagine the fantastic variety of operations we have discovered through the judging process – it's been an absolute pleasure to investigate just how all of these incredible operators run their businesses."

The Thatch is not the only Thame pub to reach the finals of a national competition.

Jack Bull, head chef at the James Figg pub, in Cornmarket, Thame, reached the finals of the 2016 National Burger Awards in February, where he joined 15 others to compete for the title Best Burger Chef.

Housing rally

CAMPAIGNERS fighting development on green fields across Oxfordshire took part in a rally at Woodstock.

They gathered at Woodstock Town Hall on Saturday to say 'no to excessive over-development imposed on Bicester and Oxfordshire without public consultation'.

Under the umbrella ROAR, Rural Oxfordshire Action Rally, groups from across the county joined forces.

Action groups have been set up to oppose planned developments in Bicester, Wolvercote, Abingdon, Adderbury, Witney, Kidlington, Wretchwick Way, Bicester, and Woodstock.

Speakers included ROAR chairman Peter Jay, CPRE Wallingford chairman Richard Harding, Bob McGurrin of Woodstock Action Group, Pam Roberts, of Save Gavray Meadows, Michael Earnshaw and James Glaiser, of Save Bicester, and Katherine Kaye of Wolvercote Action Group.

A post on the ROAR's website after the rally said: "We ask for one simple but critical thing of Whitehall before this folly damages our environment and the futures of the next generation: that is hand back planning to the local elected officials and the local community, they know what's best for their whole community NOT the developers and Landowners sniffing a quick profit." Oxford Uni vote over NUS anti-semitism claims

By Alex Ballinger

OXFORD University Students Union is holding a referendum to either leave or stay in the National Union of Students over allegations of anti-semitism directed at its newly elected president.

At a meeting held last Wednesday evening Oxford University Students Union (OUSU) voted to hold a vote for members.

The National Union of Students (NUS) elected Malia Bouattia as its president last week, but her leadership has been marred by accusations of prejudice against Jewish people.

Miss Bouattia is the first ever black woman to be elected president of the NUS as well as the first Muslim.

A OUSU statement said: "The OUSU sabbatical team have noted with great concern the allegations of anti-semitism levelled at the National Union of Students' presidential candidate, Malia Bouattia.

"We encourage Malia to fully respond to the allegations made in an open letter by presidents of the Jewish societies as soon as possible.

"OUSU condemns anti-semitism and will continue to condemn anti-semitism in the student movement.

"If these allegations are true, we believe it makes her unfit for the office of national president."

The allegations relate to an article co-authored by Miss Bouattia in 2011 that said: "The University of Birmingham is something of a Zionist outpost in British Higher Education."

An open letter to Miss Bouattia, written by presidents of Jewish societies from across the UK, was published online ahead of her election win.

The letter asked: "Why do you see a large Jewish society as a problem?"

A referendum will now be held before Sunday, May 29 on whether OUSU should disaffiliate itself with the national body.

Voting will be open to all members of OUSU, and Oxford University students are automatically registered with the body when they enrol.

The NUS acts as a platform for students to campaign and improve education.

Miss Bouattia, who previously served as Black Student's Officer, was elected at the NUS National Conference in Brighton on Wednesday, April 20.

Writing in The Guardian newspaper on Sunday, April 24 , Miss Bouattia said: "I've always been a strong campaigner against racism and fascism in all its forms. For me to take issue with Zionist politics is in no way me taking issue with being Jewish.

"For me it has been, and always will be, a political argument, not one of faith or ethnic identity.

"If the language I have used in the past has been interpreted any other way then let me make this clear – it was never my intention, although my political ideologies and beliefs remain unchanged."

Zionism is a movement for Jewish people's sovereignty in Israel.

Chimney fire in Kingham

CHIPPING NORTON: Firefighters were called to a blaze in a village near Chipping Norton last Tuesday that spread to part of the roof of a house.

Fire crews were called to West End, Kingham, at around 6.26pm to a chimney fire.

Using ladders they climbed on to the roof and worked inside and outside to prevent the fire spreading further.

They used hose reels and cutting equipment to remove burning insulation material and timber to extinguish the fire.

228 frames in charity pool marathon

• Jamie Saczak three hours into his marathon session

A GROVE man battled through sleep depravation to raise £600 in a 24-hour charity pool marathon.

Jamie Saczak, from Sharland Close, took on the challenge in Abingdon to raise money for Parkinson's UK starting on April 20 for national Parkinson's Awareness Week.

The 24-year-old played 228 frames at the Oracle Snooker Club in Ock Street between 4pm on Wednesday and 4pm the following day, winning 143 and losing only 85.

He said: "I had never previously done anything like this.

"I played 18 different opponents over the 24 hours, which kept my concentration levels up as I am so competitive I want to try and win every frame.

"I needed a few coffees to keep myself awake, and had very achy legs at the end."

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Is a care home really the best option for Mum?

So what do you do when you know your elderly parent isn't coping at home? You know they need looking after and a little extra support, but is a care home really necessary and is it the best and only option?

"It's a problem facing many people" says David Westerby, Village Manager at the soon to open Richmond Witney Retirement Village. "Every day family members tell me how fiercely independent their parents are, but the reality is often very different with many ageing parents reliant on a great deal of support from a combination of family, friends, neighbours and public services. The stresses on families can be enormous".

Of course families and friends are there to help as much as they can and generally do their utmost, but often they're not local and have many other important responsibilities and demands on their time. "It's a real conundrum" says David, "and often people are still isolated at home with no real quality of life despite the sterling efforts of their family and friends to sustain them".

So what is the alternative? In the past the only obvious solution has been residential care, but this might seem like an unnecessarily draconian step to take when, with a little extra care and support, an elderly parent can continue to enjoy a more independent lifestyle. The answer could be a Village Suite at award-winning retirement village operator Richmond Villages, who are part of Bupa. People purchase their own apartment and enjoy a level of support which includes all meals, cleaning, laundry and household chores, with personal care on hand 24/7 if required.

"Most people have at least one meal a day with friends in the restaurant or take the option of having meals brought to their apartment." continues David, "Dining with friends is a regular social occasion for most people, but the social aspect is enhanced further by our activities and events team who facilitate everything from bridge clubs to cultural festivals, all designed around the interests and wants of the people living at the Village. We also have our own fleet of vehicles and drivers meaning shopping and other routine journeys, as well as recreational outings, no longer requires ordering a taxi or relying on family or friends if you don't drive anymore."

Graham Wood, whose mother has been living in a Village Suite at a Richmond Village for five years, said "Mum's previous home had just become too much work for her. She wasn't coping well and it was all getting her down. Now she has her own beautiful apartment, a great social life and excellent facilities all on her doorstep. Not only has it been the perfect move for Mum, but knowing that support and help from Richmond Villages is there 24 hours a day is very reassuring for me and my family."

Bill Bailey in Limboland

IT is back to basics for Bill Bailey on his new 'Limboland' tour.

By James Richings

The comedian is scrapping the high-tech set to brave the audience on his own at Oxford's New Theatre next week.

But with 10 tours under his belt, the 52-year-old is mixing things up to bring a more personal slant to Limboland.

"The only difference is that there is more personal recollection in this show as it's about stories, family and experiences," Bill told the Guardian.

"I think that this show is a lot more intimate that I have done in the past, as previous shows have had screens and back projections which have been very technical.

"This show is very much going back to the roots of stand up."

After his first stand-up tour in 1995, various panel shows and sitcoms came calling, propelling a fresh-faced Bailey to TV fame.

But it was not until after he landed a permanent role in Dylan Moran and Graham Lineham's 'Black Books' in 2000 that he became a household name.

The role of team captain on 'Never Mind the Buzzcocks' soon followed suit, before film appearances in Hot Fuzz, 2007, and a headline set in the 2012 Royal Variety Show.

But despite the countless success on TV, Bill insisted that live comedy was his passion.

"TV propels you into the public eye in a way that nothing else really does," he said.

"I was very lucky to be in 'Black Books' and then be on,'Never Mind the Buzzcocks ', which then led to other work on panel shows and so on.

"They are very pleasant and fun things to do but my main line of work, which is my life's work, is the live stuff - and that began a long time before television."

Limboland is at the New Theatre next Wednesday, May 11, and Thursday, May 12. Tickets cost £28.90 and both shows start at 8pm.

Wood Festival line-up

OXFORDSHIRE'S Wood Festival has announced a line-up of 26 musicians getting set to perform at its eighth fiesta near Wallingford this month.

The three-day folk, blues and country festival with a bit of rock and roll will see a number of singer-songwriters take to the stage at Braziers Park in Ipsden from Friday, May 20, until Sunday, May 22.

By James Richings

The names include Emily Barker, performer of the theme to BBC TV's Wallander starring Kenneth Branagh, American musician Don Gallardo, singer Joe Nolan, and Canadian guitarist Terra Lightfoot.

Terra said: "I'll be attempting to summon the rock n roll gods into a tiny amplifier and singing my heart out."

Her performance at Wood Festival on the Saturday will be Terra's first Oxfordshire show, and last in her UK tour before jetting back to Canada.

The musician from Waterdown in Ontario has released two albums so far supercharged by themes of love, lust, loneliness and temptation.

"When I was three, my grandmother led a weekly senior's choir every Tuesday and I was afforded the opportunity to sit next to her on the bench and mash the keys.

"Since then, I haven't stopped getting involved in music."

Dubbed a 'ferocious talent' with a voice that commands attention, Terra is hoping her UK tour will help achieve her dream to become a household name in music.

"The audience will hopefully take away a new love of tall guitar players named Terra from Canada," she joked.

"And to make it in music, you need to rehearse as often as you can, always do your best and be true to yourself."

Acts joining her to play on Wood Festival's solar-powered, grass-roofed wooden stage are: Boo Seeka, Louis Berry, Don Gallardo, Joe Nolan, Surf Dads, JP Hoe, The Hanging Stars, Lewis & Leigh, Jaly Fily's Coute Diomboulou, Paul McClure, Xogara, Society, Katy Rose Bennett, Art Theefe, Gabriel Minnikin, Loud Mountain, Natureboy, Oxford Ukeleles, Papa Nui, Jali Fily Cissokho, Sam Lee, Danny and the Champions of the World, Owiny Sigoma, The Dreaming Spires and Nick Cope.

Workshops, children's activities and talks will be announced soon.

A full weekend ticked costs £80, and 12 and unders go free. See www.woodfestival.com for more information.

Step up to the stage

OPEN MIC: An open mic night will take place at the Cornerstone Arts Centre on Tuesday, May 10.

The evening will allow local musicians, singer-songwriters, poets, comedians and many more to show off their talents at the Station Road venue.

• Michael Pennington as King Lear

Review: ★★★★☆

In the company of fools and madmen

I'LL admit I had neither read nor seen King Lear before my trip to the Oxford Playhouse on Tuesday night, and there are not too many of Shakespeare's works I can say that about.

But I like to think that means I saw the play the way he would have intended - performed on stage in the theatre by a talented troupe of actors, and completely without preconception.

Surely that is a fitting way to mark 400 years since his death.

A shotgun wielded by Cordelia marks the start of the performance with a bang, and harshly rouses the audience from plush seats.

From then on I'm captured, in part through determination to follow the plot, but mainly because the powerful acting and pace of the narrative commands all your attention.

From a jovial beginning in the royal courts Lear's egotism immediately lands him in trouble.

He pledges to divide his kingdom of England between his three daughters if they can prove their love for him through flattery.

While daughters one and two reel off

By Katriona Ormiston

monologues describing their adoration for their father, Cordelia (Beth Cooke) is banished for finding no words to express her love.

Lear's folly becomes clear when his first two daughters undermine him and he is exiled from both their care.

As Lear, Michael Pennington portrays an ageing king riven with vanity, depression and at times a philosopher's perplexity.

As a four time Olivier-nominated actor and veteran Shakespeare performer, Pennington must be well versed in dealing with the playwright's complex characters.

I would count Lear as possibly one of the toughest, a challenge accepted and conquered as Pennington flips from proud monarch to raging avenger to pure madman to broken-hearted father in quick succession - and back as the play demands.

He leads a gifted cast of 14 in the Royal and Derngate Northampton production, who at times have to double up to play different characters. For pragmatism's sake I can see why they ghost in other minor roles. But as someone who had not watched the play before I was left speculating whether Shakespeare was reintroducing another character in disguise as he so often does.

Hailed as one of Shakespeare's greatest tragedies, the dark and dominating backdrop casts a suitable gloom broken only by the Fool (Joshua Elliot), who is handed some of The Bard's greatest lines including, 'Thou shouldst not have been old before thou hadst been wise'.

It is pearls like this which means Shakespeare is alive and well 400 years after his death. His writing is still relevant.

The jest best appreciated on the night came from King Lear himself, who told Gloucester (Pip Donaghy) as he nursed gouged-out eyes: 'Get thee glass eyes, and like a scurvy politician seem to see the things thou dost not'.

I can only surmise that in an atmosphere of junior doctors contracts, cuts, and the EU referendum, everyone's minds flittered to the modern playmakers they call politicians.

WOODY SEZ: THE LIFE AND MUSIC OF WOODY GUTHRIE

Following its critical success in London's West End, the hit musical Woody Sez heads out on a full UK tour. Woody Sezcaptures the heart and spirit of America's original folk hero Woody Guthrie, who paved the way for Bob Dylan, Bruce Springsteen and more. Woody Sez is a soul stirring musical event performed by four amazingly talented actor-musicians performing over 25 of his classic songs (on over 20 live acoustic instruments!). It's a joyous, toe-tapping and heartfelt musical portrait that uses Woody's words and songs to transport the audience through his fascinating and sometimes tragic life.

BERLINETTA
CLASSIC CAR AUCTIONS

WITH just a few days to go now before the weekend and the weather seemingly set fair, the team at Berlinetta are hoping for a large turnout in the glorious grounds of The Manor Hotel. Serious buyers, enthusiasts, families and just those window-shoppers (windscreen shoppers?) who simply enjoy feasting their eyes on classic cars – all will be equally welcome at this unique event. With free admission and cars available to view all day from 9am onwards on the Saturday and up until 3pm on the Sunday, a day trip to Weston-on-the-Green would seem to be well worth considering – we'll certainly be there!

Berlinetta Classic Car auctions launched earlier this year with the intention of providing a fresh and enticing alternative to the traditional routes available when buying or selling your classic. Brothers Rob and Pete Thornton have founded the company with the aim of providing all the upsides of buying direct from an owner, dealer or broker, combined with the immediacy and focus of the auction process; with plans to hold boutique sales conducted over a weekend, allowing buyers to bid online at any point. Berlinetta will hold their inaugural sale this weekend, with consignments limited to a maximum of 25 cars. The brothers feel that while a conventional auction is effective in that it provides a time-limited focus to any transaction, the risks incurred by buyers who are unable to fully evaluate potential purchases prior to bidding are significant.

As Berlinetta explained "you wouldn't invest in a property prior to having it surveyed, and investing in a classic car is not dissimilar. Our unique try before you by facility, allows potential buyers to talk direct to owners, fully inspect a vehicle (on ramps if required), hear it run and even be taken on a test drive, all from the auction site, prior to bidding."

By asking (but not insisting) that sellers be on hand to demonstrate their cars to prospective buyers, and by avoiding the expense involved in staging and running a traditional 'man with gravel' auction, the company is able to keep overheads low and offer a groundbreaking 0% sellers commission. This unique fee structure is enhanced by their offer to accommodate sellers and their partners at the hotel for the weekend free of charge, with an exclusive champagne reception on the Saturday night to further lubricate the social side of the event. "Selling or buying a classic car should be more than just a transaction. We aim to turn it into a sociable, enjoyable and ultimately profitable experience by offering sellers a weekend away in beautiful surroundings in the company of other like-minded enthusiasts, whilst offering buyers the opportunity to try before they buy." For further details – www.berlinetta-auctions.co.uk or call 01903 530 926 (Southern office) or 01636 627 115.

With free admission and the weather promising to be Hot Hot Hot we look forward to seeing you there.

United one more win away from promotion

• Liam Sercombe grabbed Oxford United's second goal against Carlisle (picture by Steve Daniels)

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United moved within one more win of securing promotion to Sky Bet League One after goals from Chris Maguire and Liam Sercombe earned the U's a 2-0 win at Carlisle United.

The tense victory was delivered by the U's despite sustained periods of pressure from the home side but United held on and will reach the next division if they can beat Wycombe Wanderers at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday.

A total of 2,238 travelling U's fans cheered their side on from the start, who were boosted after four minutes when Maguire was upended in the penalty box by Carlisle's Luke Joyce.

The spirited forward slotted the ball home to give the U's the lead and they should have had more after Danny Hylton and Callum O'Dowda both struck narrowly wide.

The Cumbrians came back into the game after a blistering 15-minute period and Joyce's thunderbolt just missed Benji Buchel's right-hand post.

Josh Ruffels nearly scored a wondergoal for Oxford after interlinking play between O'Dowda and Alex MacDonald carved through the defence and Ruffels was free to slot home but the midfielder then skewed his effort wide from 10 yards.

Just before the break saw Maguire and O'Dowda come close with efforts as the U's kept up the pressure.

Carlisle grew more into the game after half-time with Chey Dunkley just managing to block a Charlie Wyke effort.

Hylton was denied a penalty on 66 minutes when it looked like he was fouled in the box but the U's were then given a reprieve after the ball struck Jonjoe Kenny's arm in the box but the referee didn't point to the spot.

The ball then had to be cleared off the U's line from Hylton and before Sercombe struck in the 73rd minute to relieve U's nerves after an inch-perfect ball from O'Dowda that the midfielder blasted home.

The win was secured and all eyes now turn to Wanderers on Saturday in a sell-out contest that decides the fate of Oxford's season.

Kick-off is at 3pm.

Diddy reserves fall in cup final

DIDCOT TOWN reserves fell to a dominant Fairford Town side in a 5-0 mauling at Flackwell Heath in the Bluefin Sport Supplementary Cup Final on Saturday.

The reserves have experienced a turbulent campaign finishing tenth in the Hellenic League Division One East and were looking to end the season on a high.

Fairford took the lead in the 15th minute when a deep cross into the Diddy box was headed home by Jack Ellis before Didcot's Ross MacDonald tried his luck with an overhead kick.

Aaron Gray then went close for Didcot before the Railwaymen then lost Jack Hollister to a red card after he put in a late challenge on Steve Hall to get a second carded offence.

On 39 minutes, Fairford then extended the lead through Danny Hale's header for a 2-0 half-time lead.

Fairford then extended their lead shortly after when Ellis curled home in the box..

Hale then made it four on 62 minutes with a low drive before Luke Cordery had an effort cleared off the line for Fairford.

The scoring was then rounded out after Ellis smashed home the fifth to complete his hat-trick, with the Gloucestershire side going on to lift the trophy.

United get season going after first win versus Sheffield

OXFORD United Women secured their first win and points of the season at the fifth attempt with a 1-0 win over Sheffield FC Ladies through an Ini Umotong goal on Sunday.

Umotong's fourth goal in five games in the 61st minute proved to be the difference between the both sides.

United had headed into the encounter at the foot of the WSL2 and Sheffield were strong out of the blocks as Jodie Michalska headed in but referee Kevin Howick ruled it out due to a foul in the build-up.

Hannah Dale had a go from 20 yards but the shot was wide of the target and then Sheffield's Sherry McCue struck the outside of the post with a fine effort.

Umotong flashed an effort across the goal in 23 minutes and Oxford's Holly Pickett rose highest to meet Laura Nichol's ball but was unable to turn the ball home.

Dale then sent a huge strike from 30-yards into the arms of the U's keeper before Laura Nichol put the ball into space for Umotong to calmly slot home to give her side the lead.

It was a lead that Oxford managed to hold on to and will be a big boost for the U's as they aim to get their season going.

City's campaign comes to an end with defeat

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD City bowed out from their Conference South season on Saturday with a 1-0 defeat to Conference South champions Sutton United at Marsh Lane.

A gate of 503 fans greeted the two teams with Oxford providing a guard of honour for the visitors ahead of kick-off before Tom Bolarinwa snatched the only goal of the game after just 15 minutes.

The defeat to Sutton means Justin Merritt's side have not recorded a win in the league since their 5-1 thrashing of Concord Rangers in March.

The Hoops were mounting a promotion challenge for a considerable part of the season but recent results have left the club's form flat and seen them finish the season in twelfth.

Bradley Bubb nearly found the net for City early on when his run in the box looked dangerous but Sutton's Louis John stepped in to make the challenge and block the shot.

Bolarinwa's goal came after City's defence tailed off at the back and the winger bought himself some space to fire past Oxford 'keeper Laurie Walker.

United's Dan Fitchett then missed two great chances for the away side, with one being diverted for a corner and another from close range.

After the break, Fitchett volleyed over the bar and Sutton substitute Craig Dundas' explosive long-ranger was just too high to bother Walker.

City still managed to keep the opposition 'keeper busy and threatened with some whipped-in corners but the home side simply couldn't break down Sutton.

Sutton will move onto the National Conference following their sterling campaign while it's back to the drawing board for City.

Up next for Merritt's blues is their Oxfordshire Senior Cup final against Oxford United at the Kassam Stadium on Tuesday.

The match is a repeat of the 2013 final in which the yellows won 4-2.

The game kicks off from 7.30pm with tickets available for the game on the day.

Blues bashed in Toulouse encounter

OXFORD RL remain rooted to the bottom of Kingstone Press League 1 after a 54-8 loss at Toulouse Olympique made it six defeats from six games.

Toulouse began the route on five minutes when Kane Bentley went over and Mark Kheirallah bagged the conversion.

Oxford then got themselves on the scoreboard when Tom Holmes went over for an unconverted try but the French side soon hit back through Clemont Boyer and Kheirallah added the extras for a 12-4 score.

Oxford's Kieran Gill then suffered a broken arm after being taken out by Gavin Maguerite just ahead of the try line.

Toulouse then made Oxford pay with three tries in five minutes as Gregory White, Rhys Curran and Maguerite all went over for the resurgent French side.

Arthur Gonzalez-Trique then went over for the French side for a converted try before Tony Maurel played in Mourad Kriouache to cross for Toulouse once more.

To round things off Toulouse then bagged two more converted tries through Sammy Masselot and Paul Marcon before Oxford's Charlie Greene scored a late consolation try.

The result follows a series of defeats for the Blues who have started their season in worrying form.

Puritans return to Premier

BANBURY UNITED booked their place back in the Southern League Premier Division after a 2-0 win over Taunton Town in the play-offs.

The result meant that United made an immediate return to the Premier Division after just a year in the Southern League Division One and West.

Goals from Zac McEachran and captain Andy Gunn either side of the break secured the win to send the home fans into raptures at the final whistle.

United had been relegated to the division last year after finishing in the final relegation spot and took their time to get to the grips with the lower division early on in the season.

However, a blinding run of 10 straight league wins catapulted them up the table at the turn of the year including an 8-1 win over Oxfordshire rivals Wantage Town.

Since the surprise 7-1 mauling at Taunton Town on March 8, the Puritans have now recorded 11 wins from their last 12 games, culminating in the weekend's finale.

Their promotion means that Oxfordshire's representatives in the Southern League Division One South & West continues to be four teams.

Kidlington's promotion from the Hellenic Premier League means they will face off against Didcot Town, North Leigh and Wantage Town next season.

Chinnor finish with a flourish

OSCAR Heath scored 30 points for Chinnor RFC as they rounded off their season with a 45-26 win at Southend.

The Villagers started brightly in the contest and kept the ball in the Saxons half for the first ten minutes with a Southend player also sin-binned.

However, they were dealt a blow after Chinnor's Junior Fatialofa and Jon Phipps were then given yellow cards.

Southend took advantage of the cards to run in three tries in quick succession with Ian Meads bagging a double and Sunny Gay snatching the third try to take a 19-0 lead.

However, just before the break The Villagers came back into it after Heath bagged his first try of the day and then James Tyas crossed to make it 19-14.

The Saxons' lead was short-lived and Chinnor came out fighting in the second half with Heath charging through the Southend defence to rack up three tries in a row.

Chinnor's fifth then came through the arms of Kieran Goss who glided through the Southend defence from his 22 to increase the lead.

There was still time for George Messum to get over the line for Chinnor before ex-Villagers winger Reuben Haile restored some dignity for Southend for a bonus-point try.

The result means Chinnor finish sixth in the National League 2 South.

Manager departs

FOOTBALL: Milton United manager Paul Bedwell has stepped down after three seasons in charge of the Hellenic Premier League club.

MOTORSPORT: Bradley Smith is set to take to the track at Le Mans in France this weekend for the fifth round of the 2016 MotoGP World Championships.

Smith heads into the encounter in 12th place on 20 points after suffering a tricky start to the season.

Saints pumped for trip to Torquay

OXFORD SAINTS will have the chance to capitalise on their comeback win over Bristol Apache with a win at the Torbay Trojans this Sunday.

The contest at Foxhole Sports Field in Paignton will see the Saints have the chance to go 3-0 in what has been a strong start to their 2016 season.

The Saints had come from 13-0 down at half-time to snatch a win through a strong showing from James Walter who grabbed two touchdowns in a sensational second-half performance.

Following the game, head coach Andrew Day urged his side to continue on their upward trajectory.

He said: "I'm really pleased with this win but we won't rest. We know that only continued hard work on the practice ground will keep us going in the direction we want."

The Saints head to Paignton with the home side coming into the game off the back of two defeats.

The Trojans were defeated 25-9 by Swindon Storm and were beaten 38-0 by Bristol Apache in the opener last month.

A strong squad is expected from the Saints for the encounter with Oxford optimistic that they can be the Trojans to the sword.

The game kicks off from 2.30pm. Pick up next week's Guardian for the report.

A review of a club longing for better days after tough season

United in decline

By Loughlan Campbell

ABINGDON United's dire season has exemplified a fall in grace at the club over the last nine years.

Steve Alman's side headed into their third successive season in the Hellenic Premier League last August with a three-year plan to get the club back into the Southern League.

Just nine years ago in April 2007, United secured their highest league position of 11th in the Southern League Division One South & West under the management of Andy Slater, who guided the U's through four years in the division.

It is a very different picture for the club now with Alman's team looking likely to drop out of the Hellenic Premier League after a dismal run of form that has seen them suffer 29 defeats in the 2015/16 season.

Their last recorded home win was against Milton United on December 28 last year with a surprise 5-1 scoreline.

United recorded just six league wins over the eight months, with their shock victory over promotion challengers Flackwell Heath by far the highlight for Alman's men.

George Reid's departure to Didcot Town in January was a blow to the squad's striking options, and his loss led to the club losing their main target man at a crucial time of the season.

A 19th place finish in the league sees the U's most likely to head down to the Hellenic League Division One East or West, with the FA set to make a final decision on the club's fate later this month.

It's a division that Abingdon haven't played in since their relegation in 1981.

United shot straight back up to the Hellenic Premier League the next season as runners up and will be bidding to do the same should the axe fall on their Premier League status.

However, U's fans should be hopeful that the club is putting a new youth development system in place over the summer to build a second side called Abingdon United FC Development to play in the Hellenic League Division Two.

The club say its part of their 'long term vision to develop the best young talent in the area.'

It's anyone's guess as to whether United will bounce back next season, but with Alman maintaining the reins, stability can at least be assured in the short-term while the hope for success will be latched on by the fans for the long run.
